Gatekeeper Opening:

Hi, quick question — who handles your dispatch software and Google review operations? Is that Chesley or Cody?

(If asked what it's regarding):

I put together a 1-page technical benchmark on Austin plumbing dispatch systems comparing your review capture against Radiant. What's the best email address to send that to Cody's desk?

Direct Pitch (Once Connected):

Hey Cody, Joel calling. You weren't expecting my call — got 30 seconds, or did I catch you right in the middle of a dispatch?

I was looking at your Google listing. You've got a stellar 4.8-star rating, but only 21 reviews on Maps while Radiant sits at 17,000+. In Austin, that gap usually costs 15 to 20 emergency calls a month because post-job review requests aren't automated in dispatch.

Curious — are you guys actively trying to get into the Map Pack top 3, or is dispatch already booked out with more work than you can handle?

(If open to seeing it):

I put together a 2-minute diagnostic breakdown with the exact workflow to automate it. What's the best email address to send that over to?

Subject: austin plumbing / radiant benchmark

Chesley and Cody,

Noticed Austin Plumbing holds a 4.8-star rating, but sits at 21 reviews on Google Maps while Radiant has over 17,000.

In Austin, that review gap pushes you out of the top 3 Map Pack, costing an estimated 15–20 high-ticket emergency calls every month simply because post-job review requests aren't automated in dispatch.

Put together a 2-minute breakdown showing how to automate review capture through your CRM and drop mobile load time under 2 seconds.
